JUDGMENT

The unanimous judgment of the Tribunal on remedy for failure to make reasonable adjustments for disability (Equality Act 2010 sections 20 & 21) is as follows:

1. The Tribunal has made no recommendation or recommendations.
2. The claimant is awarded the cumulative sum of £15,000 (fifteen thousand pounds) for the failure of the respondent to make a reasonable adjustment to its practice of: (i) allocating the claimant and other case workers a case load of between 50 and 68 cases; (ii) allocating a caseload of which approximately 90% were complex psychological cases; and (iii) not checking in with the claimant regularly about her mental wellbeing on from 1st November 2022.
5. We make no award for any financial losses.
6. The claimant is entitled to interest in accordance with the Employment Tribunal's (interest on awards in discrimination cases) Regulations 1996:

Interest on the award is £3,470.24, therefore the total award is £18,470.24.

7. The respondent is to pay the claimant the sum of £18,470.24 within 14 days of the date of receipt of the Judgment.

NOTICE

THE EMPLOYMENT TRIBUNALS (INTEREST) ORDER 1990 ARTICLE 12

Case number: 2411678/2023

Name of case: Mrs L Bates v The Chief Constable of Greater Manchester
Police

Interest is payable when an Employment Tribunal makes an award or determination requiring one party to proceedings to pay a sum of money to another party, apart from sums representing costs or expenses.

No interest is payable if the sum is paid in full within 14 days after the date the Tribunal sent the written record of the decision to the parties. The date the Tribunal sent the written record of the decision to the parties is called the relevant decision day.

Interest starts to accrue from the day immediately after the relevant decision day. That is called the calculation day.

The rate of interest payable is the rate specified in section 17 of the Judgments Act 1838 on the relevant decision day. This is known as the stipulated rate of interest.

The Secretary of the Tribunal is required to give you notice of the relevant decision day, the calculation day, and the stipulated rate of interest in your case. They are as follows:

the relevant decision day in this case is: 10 November 2025

the calculation day in this case is: 11 November 2025

the stipulated rate of interest is: 8% per annum.
